Insurance delegate

This is a natural person specifically working for the account and under the responsibility of an insurance company, an insurance broker, or a general insurance agent. He will work exclusively for one of the three mentioned bodies but he may at the same time work for the account and under the responsibility of an insurance company, an insurance broker, or a general insurance agent, as long as this secondary work does not conflict with his original work and on condition that he obtains an authorization from the original employer. The authorization is limited in time and may be renewed on yearly basis.
